

The Creative Curriculum® Kits for Preschool

Social–Emotional Learning Kit

In the preschool years, social–emotional development involves learning how to identify and understand emotions and practicing how to express them appropriately. This kit is full of materials that allow children to communicate about their emotions with others.

The materials in this kit can be used during any part of the classroom day with groups of children or one-on-one. The unique emotion stones encourage children to show you exactly how they are feeling; children can use the mirrors to see how their faces are reflecting their emotions. The stories and characters of the four fiction books in this set serve as great prompts to help children discuss how they handle and express strong emotions.

Social–Emotional Learning Kit Materials

- 12 Emotion Stones
- Photo Display
- 4 Emotion Mirrors
- Me and My Feelings Book Collection (4 books)

