

2022 NAEYC Annual Conference Planner

Attending a large, national-level conference is so exciting, especially if it's your first time! It can also feel overwhelming because there are a lot of opportunities to listen to incredible speakers and to participate in awesome events.

A plan will help you make the most of your limited time at the conference. Get a conference program ahead of time and choose what feels important to you, using the three categories below to guide your selections.

1. Hot topics in the field you are eager to learn about
2. Professional development you need but haven't had the opportunity to take
3. Areas in which you need to deepen your knowledge or improve your abilities

Conference Schedule

Use the space below to plan which sessions you will attend throughout the conference. Don't forget to set aside time to stop by the exhibit hall: it's open from 10 a.m.–6 p.m. Thursday and Friday!
