"Our teachers were able to gain back valuable time by reducing paperwork and administrative tasks—so they could focus on what matters most: supporting children's learning."

—Kristen M. Miller, Director of Education, Celebree School

Celebree School uses the Teaching Strategies Ecosystem for:

- Curriculum
- Assessment
- Family Engagement
- Professional Development

Challenge

Before partnering with Teaching Strategies, Celebree's educators managed curriculum and assessment almost entirely on paper, using binders and checklists that consumed teachers' time and offered administrators limited visibility.

As Celebree expanded across locations, these disconnected systems made it increasingly difficult to ensure a consistent, high-quality experience at every center.

Solution

Celebree implemented an integrated early learning ecosystem with Teaching Strategies—bringing curriculum, assessment, family engagement, and professional development into a single, streamlined experience and giving administrators the visibility needed to support quality at scale.

- Unified curriculum and digital resources with The Creative Curriculum®
- Embedded GOLD® assessment aligned to daily instruction
- Streamlined family communication tools via Teaching Strategies® Family app
- Ongoing professional development and implementation support through the PD Teacher Membership

"Kristen Miller and I spent a lot of time looking at lots of different companies, but we weren't really finding one that could do it all. That's what Teaching Strategies brought together for us."

–Stefanie Shurer, Director of Franchise Management

Results

More Time for Teaching

Educators can now capture observations, plan and individualize instruction, and access resources in one place, reducing time spent on paperwork and freeing them to focus on meaningful interactions with children.

Scalable Quality Across Centers

With data shared across solutions, administrators gained real-time insight into classroom activity and performance, enabling more targeted support for teachers. This, combined with standardized practices, has helped Celebree ensure consistent, high-quality instruction as the organization grows.

Stronger Family Engagement

Families now receive regular updates and insights into their children's learning, giving them confidence in their children's experiences.

One Platform and Partner for All

With an integrated solution supplied by a single provider, Celebree not only streamlined daily workflows, but also reduced the number of vendors their teams needed to manage.

This shift simplified operations for administrators while creating a more connected, consistent experience for teachers and families.
